

Russell Price, Jr.:

Relationship Expert,

Specializing In Red Flags That Show Women He May Be Stringing You Along

Russell Price, Jr., is the founder and CEO of Today's Relationships, an organization for people who are married, separated, widowed, divorced or single.

Russell conducts seminars and workshops on relationships such as the five levels of relationships and how to determine if your relationship is a healthy or addictive one.

As a former police officer, Russell has had the opportunity to witness several domestic situations and many males being locked up. This inspired Russell to write his first book, "You Might Not Have A Woman If . . .," to help individuals to see the signs that would prevent domestic violence and help men and women to communicate better. For example, if you are contributing to the household financially and don't have a key, it might not be your woman.

Russell's book, "Is He Your Man Or Is Your Head In the Sand?" is the first book, written by a man, that shows women the red flags he may be stringing you along. The book is "straight-talk-no-chaser" information that is hard to swallow but good to know. Each chapter is short and straight to the point. The book is a must-read for every woman and a must-give to every daughter.

Russell Price, Jr., is a speaker, author, consultant and relationship expert in the Washington, D.C., metropolitan area. For the past 10 years, he has been providing information on male-female relationships to the community. He has hosted a talk show on WOL-1450AM in Washington, D.C., and WOLB-1010 in Baltimore, Md.

Russell's seminar topics are:

- You Might Not Have A Woman If . . . (a blueprint to relationships)
- The Five Levels of Relationships
- Are You In Relationship Jail? "When Your Wife Is Not Your Woman"
- Is He Your Man, Or Is Your Head in the Sand?
- How To Let Go (and make your life better)
