

Linda Talley, CSP

Texas Leadership Coach

Linda Talley is a speaker, author and executive coach from Houston, Texas. She speaks more than 60 times a year to people who want to enhance their performance in business by giving them key ideas to act on in the area of relationship selling, marketing, staff motivation, conflict, customer care and leadership.

She gives people specific steps to take to create the difference between someone who is excellent and someone who is mediocre in their business arena. Her thought-provoking presentations on verbal and non-verbal communication have captured the attention of business and association audiences across America for well over a decade.

She is the author of "Business Finesse: Dealing With Sticky Situations in the Workplace" and "The Daily Win" and has both authored and been featured in numerous magazine articles. Linda takes pride in being known as a coach and speaker who gives people something to talk about! Her common sense, humor and enthusiasm gives you "take-home" ideas to implement immediately in your business and personal life.

decorates
a person's soul."*
