

Consultant in Political Psychology
Expert on Terrorism and the Middle East

Dr. Raymond H. Hamden
Clinical & Forensic Psychologist

United States of America ❖ United Arab Emirates

Dr. Raymond H. Hamden has performed clinical and forensic consultations in Baghdad, Iraq, Kabul Afghanistan, the Kingdom of Saudi Arabia, Syria, Algeria and other locations throughout the Middle East, Europe, Africa and North America.

Born in the United States, Hamden has practiced psychology in Washington, D.C., since 1979. His diverse cross-cultural services are in clinical, forensic, organizational and international consultation: critical incident debriefings, training and development programs, emergency response planning, employee selection and placement, homeland security and medical investigation consulting.

He holds a Ph.D. in psychology and continued post-graduate studies in modern psychoanalysis. At the University of Maryland in 1986, Dr. Hamden was a visiting fellow at the Center for International Development and Conflict Management. His research and consulting was in political psychology – the psychology of terrorists and hostage situations. He coined the term “The Retributional Terrorist – Type 4.”

He is director of the Human Relations Institute in Dubai Knowledge Village and International Consulting via the Washington, D.C., location. Dr. Hamden is a life member in the Association of Psychological Sciences, International Society of Political Psychology, International Council of Psychologists and American College of Forensic Examiners International.

Dr. Hamden has appeared as an expert in international media: Al Jazeera International, CNN, the BBC, Al Arabiya, Canada AM, National Public Radio and many others. Local networks have regularly called on his professional analysis and testimony in various topics on psychological profiling and critical incidents.

*Available for radio, television, newsprint, workshops, seminars, lecturers, conferences and conventions.
Dr. Hamden is informative and entertaining. His public speaking style is spicy, yet tasteful.*

Dr. Raymond H. Hamden is an independent clinical and forensic psychologist with offices in Washington, D.C., and Dubai, United Arab Emirates
+ (971-50) 651-8837

rhhamden@gmail.com

Topics -- which Dr. Hamden has addressed as a consultant to media, government, industry and academia -- include:

Political Psychology

Lebanon and Its War Problems

International Relations and Conflict Resolution

Psychology of Terrorists

Middle East and Vulnerability

Expatriates in the Arab Gulf

Fundamentalist Thinking

People of War

Cross-Culture Issues

Hostage Situations