Keys to Enjoy Life for Entrepreneurs

TAMPA BAY, FL – June 28, 2019 –Forbes predicts 50% of Americans will be entrepreneurs by the year 2020. If asked, most would say that being an entrepreneur can be terrifying and at the same time, also be very exciting and rewarding. They might also agree that to become a successful entrepreneur it requires courage, discipline and lots of commitment. Most people become entrepreneurs to have a more balanced life, but in many cases business owners are overwhelmed and work harder, longer hours and make less money than they did when they worked for someone.

To enjoy life as an entrepreneur, consider these 3 keys. First, list all of the tasks you do over a two week period. When you have completed your list, ask yourself these questions:

1. Can I eliminate some of these tasks?
2. Can I automate any of these tasks?
3. Can I delegate these tasks to someone that can do them as good as or better than me so I can focus on what I do best?

Once you eliminate, automate and delegate your tasks, take time to create messages (content) you want to distribute to prospective clients. These messages need to be distributed consistently and frequently in order to result in securing new projects and sales. Call LinktoEXPERT to help you work less – that is what we do! This is the 4th key.

ALL entrepreneurs agree that working smart trumps working hard! Small changes in the things you are doing will lead to you enjoying your life. Empower yourself by doing what you love, collaborating with others, and celebrating your victories!
