Tampa, FL – Why do so many entrepreneurs fail? Some entrepreneurs approach being a business owner with an attitude of wanting to grow and apply the new ideas they learn whereas others think they already know what they need to know. When a business owner has a closed mind due to inadequate knowledge this significantly increases the probability that their business will fail. If more business owners increased themselves to new possibilities of ways to sell their solutions their success would drastically increase.

That is why LinktoEXPERT the global community to make expert connections that count was created. For 2 decades Joanne Weiland, Founder of LinktoEXPERT sold high tech products to thousands of entrepreneurs globally and noticed the successful entrepreneurs were sales closers. However most did not like to sell or even market their services. So she designed a sales funnel for entrepreneurs that have specific talents but sales might not be one of them. You simply record, video or write about what you are doing in your business include why someone would benefit from working with you and LinktoEXPERT distributes your solution for you to tens of thousands of decision makers that can find you and hire you in minutes, a process that traditionally takes months.

When it comes to promoting your expertise, imagine the unlimited possibilities as a member of LinktoEXPERT:
