

The Meeting Space for Planners & Speakers

Founded in 1831, the International Platform Association traces its heritage to the American Lyceum tradition and the enduring values of public speaking, free expression, civic dialogue, and the exchange of ideas.

Today, IPA is building a modern platform that connects speakers, speaker bureaus, meeting planners, media professionals, association leaders, and public audiences through visibility, events, partnerships, and professional opportunities.

BookAnySpeaker.com extends that mission by creating a free direct visibility channel for speaker bureaus and their speakers.

The 195th Annual Convention will be held in Chicago on October 3rd to 5th.
Visit IPA195.com for participation details.
