

School Security Consultant: Kenneth S. Trump

KENNETH S. TRUMP, M.P.A., is President of National School Safety and Security Services, a Cleveland-based national consulting firm specializing in school security and emergency preparedness training, school security assessments and related school safety and crisis consulting services. Ken is one of the nation's leading school safety experts with more than 20 years of school security experience working with education and public safety officials in 45 states.

Ken is author of the 1998 best-selling book, "Practical School Security: Basic Guidelines for Safe and Secure Schools" (Corwin Press), and more than 45 articles on school security and crisis issues. His book, "Classroom Killers? Hallway Hostages? How Schools Can Prevent and Manage School Crises," was released in July 2000. In May 1999, he testified before the U.S. Senate Committee on Health, Education, Labor and Pensions on school safety.

Ken is one of the most widely quoted national expert consultants on school security and crisis issues. He has been interviewed by all network and cable news outlets, top 50 U.S. daily print newspapers and radio stations nationwide.
