In his book, Return of the Revolutionaries: The Case for Reincarnation and Soul Groups Reunited, Walter Semkiw, MD, has compiled compelling, independently researched reincarnation cases (above), which demonstrate that facial features, personality traits and linguistic writing style stay the same across lifetimes, and that people incarnate in karmic groups. The case of Barbro Karlen, who was born into a Christian family and who has had memories since childhood of being Anne Frank, shows that people can change religion from lifetime to lifetime. This knowledge could have prevented the Holocaust, can help mitigate violence in the Middle East and can serve as an “Antidote to 9/11.”

Dr. Semkiw has also worked with Kevin Ryerson, the medium featured in Shirley MacLaine’s books, who has demonstrated an ability to make accurate past life matches, as demonstrated in the cases featured above. One of the most remarkable matches involves Conversations with God author Neale Donald Walsch, who was identified as a little known 18th century minister in Boston, Rev. William Walter. Historical research revealed matching facial features and personality traits. Mr. Walsch supports this match. Celebrity cases, featured below, were also solved through Mr. Ryerson.

World famous neurosurgeon, Norm Shealy, MD, Ph.D., also an independently researched reincarnation case, has stated regarding Dr Semkiw’s book, “For the survival of humanity, this is the most significant book written in 1000 years.” At a July 4, 2005 gathering hosted by Dr. Shealy, 33 people convened to support Dr. Semkiw’s reincarnation research, including 6 MDs (two professors and a Human Genome Project scientist), 6 PhDs, 6 published authors, 2 retired US Diplomats, a JD and Navy and Army Captains, all who have past lives identified. Dr. Semkiw is also collaborating with Adrian Finkelstein, MD, whose new book presents the reincarnation of Marilyn Monroe.
